Contemporary Art Gallery Association

The aims of the Contemporary Art Gallery Association are laid out in the mission statement as follows: The Contemporary Art Gallery Association (CAGA) represents private art galleries in Ireland which are committed to the exhibition of contemporary visual art, the promotion of artists' careers and the expansion of a public audience.

CAGA's primary objective is to raise the profile of the private art gallery sector by raising awareness of its collective activities through engagement with collectors, the media and public bodies.
